

Business Teachers Association of New York State

October 2020

Are You a Member?

Your membership is an important aspect in our efforts to keep business education a voiced and vital part of the education discussion with the New York State Board of Regents.

Members are provided CTLE hours through the many professional development opportunities, we offer with monthly webinars, workshops, and regional conferences.

Members enjoy unlimited access to the collective knowledge of resources that are available on our website. JOIN!

You have a story to tell...

Teach Business Day is the 3rd Wednesday in October. In tribute, you are welcomed to share your story in any of the following suggested topics:

My student the entrepreneur

Teaching business education through literacy

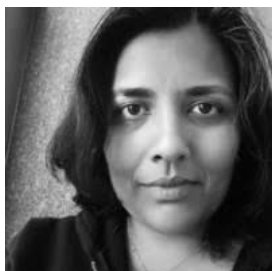

Best teaching day ever

Advocacy of business education, in any form

My favorite technology infused lesson

I'm a business teacher

Just the Facts Please

The vote - in 2016, 71% of Americans over 65 voted... while only 46% between 18 - 29 voted. It seems that those with the most future had the smallest interest in it.

The deal on TikTok... Oracle will own 12.5%, and get the data stored in the U.S. Oracle cloud. Walmart will own 7.5%, and will provide ecommerce and other online-shopping services to users. U.S. venture firms already own 40% of ByteDance (TikTok's parent), so technically this makes TikTok an American owned company.
